Office Management Opportunities

Who Do We Need?

The U.S. Census Bureau is seeking managers for the 2010 Census. Managers will carry out assigned census duties from Local Census Offices, set to open in fall 2009, to ensure that census operations are conducted on time, according to quality standards and within budget.

We are seeking qualified applicants for the following management positions.

LOCAL CENSUS OFFICE MANAGER (LCOM)

The LCOM has overall responsibility for the quality and progress of all field and office operations. The manager directs census operations in the local area, including budget and scheduling, and monitors progress of operations to ensure they are on schedule, within budget, and meet quality data standards.

ASSISTANT MANAGER FIELD OPERATIONS (AMFO)

The AMFO supervises all address listing and data collection activities in the field and directly supervises 10 to 15 supervisors for a geographically dispersed workforce of approximately 400 to 600 employees at peak operations.

ASSISTANT MANAGER RECRUITING (AMR)

The AMR implements the recruiting plan by coordinating recruiting activities with other Assistant Managers, Partnership Specialist and Regional Technicians. Responsible for training and supervising the Office Operations Supervisor and Recruiting Assistants.

ASSISTANT MANAGER QUALITY ASSURANCE (AMQA)

The AMQA supervises the quality of all field operations, and ensures that quality control procedures are being followed by field operators.

ASSISTANT MANAGER ADMINISTRATION (AMA)

The AMA is responsible for office administrative activities, including application processing, personnel, and payroll. Responsibilities include the selection of applicants, managing the supply area, oversees general safety and documenting injuries.

ASSISTANT MANAGER TECHNOLOGY (AMT)

The AMT is responsible for managing technology functions including troubleshooting, evaluating, analyzing, and coordinating automation operations to support office functions and available equipment.
